SJA to end 112 years teaching here June 2

The SJA will close its doors at the end of the current session June 2, after 112 years of teaching here.

The decision came after a careful study of the SJA's financial condition by the Mississippi Education Board, composed of the governor, the state superintendent of education, and a group of lay educators, according to Mr. Royce, executive director.

Financially, the SJA is in a precarious position. The state superintendent of education, Mr. Royce, said that the SJA's financial condition is such that it is no longer feasible to continue its operations.

Old theater to be sold, razed

The old A&G Theater on North Beach at State Street is to be razed to make way for some future development.

Christ Episcopal Day School, owner of the property, disclosed this week it has entered a contract to sell the building and lot to Salvatore J. Porino of New Orleans who plans to demolish it.

The theater property was given to the school about two years ago by the family of the late E.V. Richards of New Orleans. Richards had extensive theater and other business holdings on the Mississippi Coast and Louisiana.

landed Monday night, 10 a.m. continuing the investigation into the death of the two men. With their recommendations they said only four items remained to be completed and IP would voluntarily give title of all lands upon receipt of payment.

The committee also submitted a claim for their one percent fee, $3,048.32. All members, they said, should be paid out of the development fund.

Scuderi questioned whether the committee should be paid out of the development fund or if a portion should be retained until such time as all land titles were cleared. He recommended payment of both the IP money and the fee however after being assured the paper company would warranty title.

After meeting on the topic of purchasing land and other areas were now ready for the clearing and grubbing contractor, L.S. Stuchell of Ocean Ridge, La.

Engineers were given authority to issue such orders to prepare for both the clearing and grubbing and the dredging when, in their opinion the time was ripe. This was done to avoid holding up in the event timber clearing had progressed satisfactorily far to permit such operations prior to the commission's next session.

Car sticker checks fall behind '66

A telephone poll of service stations in the area revealed that late stickers will need to have their stickers changed for entry stickers about the March 31 deadline.

Corny Lane Chevrolet, Fred McDaniel Ford/Mercury, and N.A. Ford/Mercury Service report that stickers about the same as last year. But, they point out, the county has a lot more vehicles registered in 1967 than they did in '66.

American Super Shell Service on the Beach and Sam Ford/Mercury Auto Repairs on Spanish Trail have issued about 400 stickers. Porter's Ford/Mercury Service, 226, and Bay's Gulf Service, U.S. 93, 310.

Temporary officers in addition to Griffin are Henry Rowland, vice president; John Gallagher, secretary; and Fred Bourgoin, treasurer.

Spore rod, school prexy asks

Claiming corporal punishment hampers more than helps education, Edward P. Ginn, president, Hancock County School Board, Saturday called for an immediate end to the practice in the county system. Trustees however withheld action on his plea.

Ginn, who has been on the board since 1964, said that the school system is in a state of chaos and that the trustees are not doing their job. He said that the school system is in a state of chaos and that the trustees are not doing their job.

Forest fire count puts Hancock third

Hancock County had claim to third position in the state for forest fires during January 1967. Since the beginning of the Forestry Dept.'s year, July 1, the county has experienced 97 fires to put it in an overall position of fifth place.

Harrison experienced 193 fires in the period, Pearl River 122, Lamar 120 and Forrest 67. Comparative figures for last year were, Harrison, 27; Hancock, 34; Pearl River, 91; Lamar, 75 and Pearl River, 65.

By month totals, Harrison topped Hancock for January with a loss of 35 fires. Pearl River shows 64, Lamar, 51 and Forrest, 31. Last year's figures were, Harrison, 24; Hancock, 34; Pearl River, 51 and Forrest, 24. Hancock had more than 100 fires in February while in many cases across the state. Deaths of 11 other, Forestry Dept. says. Guy Davies of Hancock County is still performing the duties of area forester for Hancock and Lamar. Edie Ladner and Albert Hargis of Hancock County are planning the opening of a new location. One other new appointment is made known this month. That is Alvin Curran to the position of Fire Guard.

Spills and drills are on each Saturday night at Pearl River Raceway, a quarter-mile banked oval dirt track for modified racing near Piquette, as the night car drivers try to break the track record of 16.5 seconds held by Wayne

Donald Lantry respectively for a recent trip to Jackson airport business. A 1960 Ford from Warren Carver for establishment of a racing system was approved but consideration should be given to the county and the state to appear next month to discuss racing operations.

A covering letter from Carver giving several criticisms of the track was sent. He said all criticisms should be covered by the track and the county should be given a copy. Payment should be made to the county and the state to appear next month to discuss racing operations.

Winners of the 19-lap main event was Hoyt Spikes, Cor 19, followed by Roland Lander, Cor A-1, and Elvin Deaton, Cor 16. The top three in the 20-lap main event, A-class, were Wayne Light, Cor 7, and Cor V-6 Diamond. The pit crew of Cor 7 registered a blown clutch in the trophy dash.

Secret session ...

The Baker engineers also received the go ahead on Phase 5 of the master plan. This, for $1,000, covers zoning requirements within all proposed county industrial areas.

The local area after Casanova reviewed information of a rumored industrial development just outside of the proposed park. Lantry favored welcoming any industry in or out of the area providing such didn't hamper progress.

On the hiring of a part and airport director the part men decided to advertise in suitable trade journals and papers and ask for resumes from a concerned list of prospects. Interviews would be arranged with Rockwell.

A committee of three is to be appointed to handle the matter.

Runway width upped for county airport

Approval to increase runway width from 100 to 150 feet on the new Hancock County airport was approved Thursday by a group of top level officials meeting in Memphis, Tenn.

Represented were the Federal Aviation Agency, Mississippi Aeronautics Commission, National Aeronautics and Space Administration and Michael Baker, Jr., Inc., Hancock County Port and Airport Commission's engineers.

The new width will permit easier handling of commercial air carriers and allow the airport to carry a heavier volume of freight traffic.

Commission president, Dr. Andrew K. Mordecai, Jr., reported that a telephone call from Philip Ketcher, vice president, Michael Baker, Jr., indicated that the part 150's condition might be improved.

Jack Williams, Baker's representative at the local session outlined airport construction progress.

He said soil borings were finished and test analysis to new runway. Design surveys are proceeding well and testing personnel are working hard on the project, he reported. Aeronautics facility design in more than 90 per cent complete, Williams said.

Commissioner Charles Graham inquired if all would be ready and moving under the deadline for federal matching dollars. Williams replied it was going to be tight but OK.

Mordecai, told the commission he had received blank check permission from the board of supervisors to proceed on the airport project as soon as the timber had been cleared and that the engineers were well within the time table.

Commissioner told the Board...

No decision has yet been reached on the future of the building, district said.

The district first came to Bay St. Louis in 1955 and operated a summer school in Waveland. The high school division was established about 1957. That year school division was destroyed by fire the night of May 16, 1957. Like the elementary division of other days, they went to work immediately and raised the Palm Camber House as the site of the session. The next March, rebuilding began and the new and present St. Joseph's was ready for occupancy that October. An annex to house the increased enrollment was erected in 1961.

To celebrate the diamond jubilee of the foundation and to fill modern requirements, St. Joseph's Memorial Hall was built in 1956 at a cost of $40,000.

From the arrival of the first three students who came from France to Bay St. Louis on Jan. 6, 1955, the order has been followed with a service of its own. The Provincial House in New Orleans, and a number of schools throughout Louisiana. Cling their feet to the ground, the students are grateful to their friends and benefactors.

For many months called upon for the board in their design for an airport terminal building. It should have effect for the director under a constructive staff and a conference group.

In the meantime commission's design for a terminal building was approved and a request for a design was made.

In an attempt to have their money changed into a permanent commission, the design in their checking account in a case of $10,000. Such investment, in to be in short time noton, Mordecai said the reason seemed to be the most likely for the county and the state recommended.

After voting to pay three dollars to the state for legal forwarding, Mordecai said for copies of documents and representation of minutes, commission approved payment of $10,000 and $74,000 to Mordecai and commission.

Phillips, called on to comment on legality of corporal punishment, said he would have to undertake considerable research before giving a full opinion. He said he did not know the full extent of liability in the issue but that it was up to the board to take action or make a decision. He said there was nothing he could do in the matter that gives trustees the positive right to punish each punishment was could be found against that punishment.

Once told there were only eight or nine cases that still permitted such punishment and the board trustees could be sued to punish each for the balance of this matter. "Whipping just makes the children look upon their teachers with hate," he claimed.

The other trustees, Eric Lander, Lamar Lee, Lyle N. Lander and Charles Hill, were not too impressed with the study. They claimed the threat of corporal punishment very often held a deterrent as other forms of corrective measures.

They agreed that when a few boys with the punishment resulted in the student immediately feeling the incident was closed, whereas corporal punishment served to prolong the time of punishment and caused the student to ponder longer on his misdeed.

Lander pointed out that students had been given an alternative to the punishment but had chosen the physical form of punishment. He said the board would be unable to act at this time without making contact with school faculty members.

Hill, backing Lander, said removal of any form of punishment without consultation with the administration would cause a quick drop off in the moral of school staffs. He concerned that it would be unable to do anything in the middle of a term.

Lander suggested a special session to study the matter and if any changes are to be made they be instituted before school opens in fall.

This is where the issue was left.

MTF picnic grounds on schedule

A. C. Jenon, Mississippi Text Facility employee and chairman of Hancock County MTF Recreation Area, has reported that progress is going well with the project.

Jenon, who appeared before the board of supervisors last week seeking approval for the acceleration to use the old Coast Electric Power Area, said it was a run power line to the site, and Monday that construction plans have been completed and things are on the move.

"We hope to convert the old property, cleared off the Towns First Road, as the basis of the Jordan River, into a family type picnic and recreational center," he said. He said that vision complete the facility would be open to all MTF employees, their families, relatives and friends.

"We are building something that will community can enjoy," he concluded.

It might be of interest to know that all members of this team are living with the exception of one, Estelle Pappas. All the others are married, (with a large exception) and have started families and are now helping to raise a generation of children. CYO treats orphans to coast party

Over thirty Caribbea Youth Organization members celebrated 33 orphans from St. Elizabeth's Home, New Orleans, on Sunday with a full day of activities.

After meeting the girls, all between eight and 12 years old, the CYO group took their charges strolling in Waveland, to a picnic and treasure hunt in Pass Christian and then to Mc-rice Land in Gulfport. The day was climaxed with a giant kite flying party on the beach.

Participating CYO's included Kathy Oliver, Sylvia Mahan, Mary Lou Gavigan, Diana Higgins, Corollina

Parricore, Jewel Hartigan, Jessi Goodell, Mary Thomas, Nancy Davis, Elsie Blaine, Sharon Marshall, Mary Jo Kirby, Betty Haynes, Patsy Haynes, Rose Mary Grady, Charol

EASTER TREAT for our readers

Beginning next week, the Sea Coast Echo will publish the first installment of The Postal History of Hancock County written especially for this newspaper by Broox Sledge of Macon.

Mr. Sledge traces the history of Post-offices within the county between 1832 and 1929. He tells of Shieldsborough, Toulme (now Lakeshore), Napoleon, Pine-tucky and Pickayune (sic), among many others. There were 51 Postoffices in the County of Hancock during those years.

Young and old alike will want to read this fascinating account of years gone by. Watch for the Postal History starting next week.

TOO MANY COOKS? — The old saying for many cooks spoil broth proved incorrect Friday night at Bay-Waveland Gun and Rod Club meeting in American Legion home. About 50 members enjoyed gourmet dinner of blue crab fried oysters, fried potatoes, wop oiled by oiled chef Charlie Schmitt, and fresh bread. SSC gridiron crew ready for combat Fifty-one football hopefuls finished the 20-day spring training period last week at St. Stanislaus College, coach Billy Murphy announced.

Murphy said the Rock-chavos look good this year in several departments but are somewhat thin in the line and come linemen had to pass up most of the training period because of injuries. However, the line has good weight, he commented.

North Central ball squad at full strength

Hancock North Central football manager, Ezell Lee, has the largest football squad in the history of the school this year. He started football training last week with 35 men including eight starters returning from last year's eleven.

Schedule to Sept. 8, Sam Rall, home; 15, Orson Springs, home; 22, at Senat, 29, Bay High, home.

Oct. 6, at Long Beach; 13, Harrison Central, home; 20, Pass Christian, home; 27, at Vancleave.

Nov. 3, open; 10, St. Marks, home; 17, at Pearl River Central.

Following the 20-day football practice Lee and Paul Thomas will drill the track squad.

Champs ready for title

Valena C. Jones' fabulous thirdeeds went into training Monday for what should be another winning season, coach Willie Bradley announced Tuesday.

The Tigers will be after their third consecutive South Mississippi Athletic Conference track championship. The girls won the title in 1965 and were runner-up to Wiggins last year.

Returning to the Tiger line-up to co-captain James Peters, who last year ran the 220-yard dash in 22.1 seconds for the conference championship and finished third in the broad jump. Also co-captain Joseph Lemay, 440-yard conference champ who ran the distance in 52 flat.

Troy Haynes, 1600-foot man for the 440 and 880-yard medley relays, also last year's conference champ is back.

Quail stocking topic of gun and rod club

Donald Caldwell was named chairman of a five-man committee to purchase and distribute, to encourage participation in the county, $9 pair of quail for stocking purposes at the Bay-Waveland Gun and Rod Club's spring meeting Friday evening in the American Legion home attended by about 50 members.

Other members of the committee are Bobby Foyard, Clarence Loder, Teddy Moyal and Burdell Loder. The club voted to provide the necessary funds after Caldwell pointed out that quail was becoming scarcer each year and no state funds are provided for this purpose although fresh water fish were supplied for stocking the county's rivers.

President Jack Loder announced that the week of March 19-25 is National Wildlife Week, the theme this year being This is Your Land, and asked for cooperation of all members. He said that in the 50 states there are approximately 2.3 billion acres of land of which more than 870 million acres belong to the people under the jurisdiction of local, state or Federal governments.

The local and most important are called by many different names but may be classified as parks and playgrounds, parkways or trails, school grounds and forests, waterfront or reservoir areas, and tax delinquent land which have

The Tigerettes have captain Pearl Walker back; she was runner-up in the conference in dashes last year and also was starter on the relay team that finished second. Other relay girls returning are Lynette Drummond and Dolores Peters. Broad jumper Barbara Hawkins is returning as is conference high jump co-champ, Alice Lemay, who leaped 5 feet, 2 inches to tie with Wiggins. This year's schedule is not complete but will probably be announced next week, Bradley said.

CHEVY'S BONANZA SALE

Watch Lorne Greene, star of Chevrolet's "Bonanza" each Sunday night on NBC TV

A Different Kind of Sale You Can't Afford to Miss

Some sales offer stripped down, bottom-of-the-line cars at low prices. But look what your Chevrolet dealer's offering during March. Five popular accessories and options on a handsome Impala V8 Sport Coupe, or if you prefer, a 2-Door or 4-Door V8 Bel Air Sedan. And best of all, you're getting the car you want at a price you can afford in plenty of time for traveling this summer. Just check the extra low price with your dealer. Hurry.

You pick the car now and we add this:
Every sale car comes with five handsome whitewall tires, four dressy wheel covers, bumper guards for the front and rear, two handsome wraparound lights for the front fenders and even a pushbutton AM radio. You'll notice, every option and accessory in the package is there to make the car you choose more luxurious, more finished.

For even more enjoyment, specify these:
Order power steering and power brakes and your Chevrolet dealer includes them at a special Bonanza Sale package savings. If you've never had power steering and power brakes, now's your chance BONUS—BONUS—BONUS! While the Sale is on, you can order Chevrolet's big 275-hp Turbo-Fire V8 engine together with Powerglide and save yourself a bundle. Both the engine and the Powerglide come specially priced.

Truck Buyers—You save now, too! Need a pickup? Look what your dealer has in store for you. A handsome half-ton Fleetside pickup (Model CE10934) with 175-hp V8, a pushbutton radio, chrome hubcaps and custom appearance and comfort items all wrapped up in one low-priced Bonanza package.

Bonanza Sale Days Are Slipping by Fast.

At St. Augustine's

Polly sees a soccer match

An international soccer match would, if publicized, probably attract an eager crowd for admission. This because soccer is one of the world's oldest civilized sports and probably the most popular with fans from every nation.

Such an event took place right here in Bay St. Louis last Saturday afternoon. The international flavor was undeniable when Keeler Field met players from the Divine Word Seminary at St. Augustine's. The field was somewhat short of the regulation 100 to 120 yard length and narrower than the 55 to 75 yard width. This was just as well as temperatures usually average about 30 to 40 degrees cooler than the day's 84 degrees making the constant action of the sport less exhausting.

Soccer, a favorite even when cooling Christians to lions was inside a good clean fun. It was in the year 217 A.D. and the game has changed little in the interim. Eleven men in a five, three, two formation backed up by a goal tender at each end of the field constitute the team. Using a ball as round as a basketball, but more volley ball size, teams try to put the ball into the opponents goal. They are permitted to use feet, knees, chest, shoulders or heads, but not hands. If a player "hands" the ball a foul is declared and the opposing team awarded a free kick from the penalty marker. This is something similar to an unhampered toss in basketball.

On Saturday the sun beamed down on sweet drenched "11's", who played for 45 minutes without time out, and substitution. The halftime was less than ten minutes in length. Contestants used the break to receive liquid and nourishment from large juicy oranges. There was a young man who carried bucket, but it was utilized as a seat instead of a thirst quenching measure.

Briefness of the half time limited interviews, but the captain of Keeler Field's eleven, was a friendly Scotman, for some odd reason bears the nickname "Irish". The visiting team was predominantly South American. In Latin American countries soccer out draws football, baseball, hockey and tennis, combined. A most personable young Britisher gave out with some views on his native habitat between dashing over the field at break neck speed. We learned for instances that mice in the Isles are just as prevalent as cockroaches on the coast.

A friendly Norwegian confessed that he wasn't accustomed to the near hour battle in such humid weather. This he said as he attempted to massage a pulled thigh muscle.

Simply attempting to write about this fascinating game isn't nearly enough. The sight of 22 young men, clad in shorts, advised, with only goalies wearing protective shin guards, battling for a score is a stimulating that even hearing gasps were ignored. And most impressive was the fact that potentially lethal foot moving fast, knees and elbows were drawn back whenever possible to prevent injuring an opponent and, if a foul resulted during play, several were prompt to pick up the downed player. Such a display of sportsmanship among young men from ten or 11 nations, speaking as many languages, was, perhaps, the best part of the game.

HOW MUCH CAN YOU AFFORD TO LOSE? How many burglaries and hold-ups have you read about this week. Isn't it time you increased your insurance? If you don't have enough call us today. Hancock Insurance Agency - 467-5096.

ANYTHING BUT HANDS - International type soccer players battle it out on Saturday at St. Augustine's Seminary playing field. In game players can use all parts of body to propel ball to opponents goal except the hands.

WAVELENGTH

Remember Irish and Italian... we'll be sharing Easter...
This is a reminder that Wave-length's fourth annual St. Patrick's Day parade will begin at 2 p.m. at Edward Courtyard Memorial Park with a parade float, including a band of Irish dancers, led by the Irish, Mayor Gerald O'Leary, the queen and her court, taking place at Town Hall, at roughly 10:30, at three o'clock.

Paddy's Day (or pretty close)

This might count as his continuing to the tradition...
In Wave-length's St. Patrick's Day is celebrated annually, even though usually not, usually observed on March 17, but the Sunday nearest that date. The 1957 parade will be larger and longer than ever as the event is now sponsored by a civic organization, 100 members strong, who are going all out to see that all doesn't just go well, but that it's "Paddy's" to the hilt. Officers are: Joe Griffin, president; Henry Dowling, vice president; John Gallagher (a far from Irish name), secretary; Fred Berglund, treasurer; Henry Dowling also heads the parade float, including other committee chairman are: Harry O'Sullivan, Mel Villano and Robert Lohr.

Prize list and a warning
One more parade note. Trophies will be presented to the best parade (including not a member of the organization), best float and best band or group. A gentle warning might go well here. Save your parading until after the parade. A marshal will oversee the parade and the march and to one who is obviously under the influence will be allowed to take part. After all, the one who won't be too far over the yard arm when the parade ends.

Back in town

Don't know the exact date, but we'll have a very happy birthday celebration to Anthony Polacchi, of Academy's, of course, and to Bill Torrey, who was celebrated by his boy high pupils last week.

Wife's told that Martin MacRae had what one might refer to as an off day at Pasa Christian Isles Golf Club last Friday, but kindly won't go into further detail.

Ellis Jensen is most ambitious... she's completing work toward her college degree in night courses at University of Southern Mississippi.

County guests

W. H. O. C. We're getting there... this is a reference to the foreign pilot entertainment project. As any arrangement must be handled in cooperation with the International Program for Foreign Students office and on our free time is so limited as to be all but nonexistent, we're truly grateful for Ron Lange and Russell L. Jones. Their efforts, aided by our active local Community Relations Program, and a Mrs. Fush, Mrs. Fush was so honored she entrusted the pattern that he at Reister AFB last Tuesday and her colors brought forth a call from Sgt. Sanders, and a very nice letter from Charles Mitchell concerning an invitation to visit the Foreign Training Office, which will place to accept graciously within the next two weeks. Also, by the time this edition goes to press, those offering to cater the event will probably have been contacted as Sunday has been scheduled as the date for the first visitors to spend the day in Bay St. Louis.

It's just too bad that other arrangements had been made and some of the troops were able to attend the really exciting soccer game at St. Augustine's Seminary on Saturday afternoon. A final invitation followed the game and, after listening to varied languages and

Stuck in mud
Mary and Olla Mellers had only the best of intentions when they drove out to check the property at Louis Lynch's camp last Sunday. They didn't realize the ground was boggy until they were firmly stuck. Olla reached out to find a place, and Mary sat, and sat. Only realizing that they were completely blocking the road when another car pulled up, Jimmy Providence came to the rescue. Now Mary is hoping that Jimmy will be available for the blessed event next month, just in case Olla (Cont. on Page 1-C.)

Gripe corner

Several Coleman Avenue residents have commented on last week's gripe about parking around Waveland School and have noted that we mention the fact that the school bus is a daily Pled Piper, with a trail of dogs following in its wake. In the first place, it's a good way for the animal to get run over, and secondly, the canine army recedes by barking until school closes each afternoon. This is most irritating to come who work at night and are unable to sleep due to the noise. No one is blaming either children or their dogs, but it would help if parents obeyed the dog law and kept the animals either leashed or tied.

Pass church hosts meet of deacons

St. Paul's Alban Society, Pass Church, hosted the annual meeting of the Deacons of the Pass Church, Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity, on Sunday, March 12, at the home of Mrs. J. W. Venable.

Rev. Patrick G. Gorman, pastor, opened the meeting and Mrs. J. W. Venable, welcomed visitors. Following representation from St. Paul's, Long Beach, Pass Church, Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Clarksburg Harbor and Piquette.

Rev. Gorman presented, S.J. Xavier Hall, Clarksburg Harbor and the love of God.

Mrs. James J. Henson, pastor, Our Lady of the Gulf Church, presented the various organizations in the diocese for their support on a television during the past year.

Rev. Francis G. Gorman, pastor, St. Charles Borromeo Church, Piquette, gave the closing prayer.

St. Thomas' Alban Society and St. Margaret's Daughters will host the next meeting Wednesday, Sept. 19.
